

The map displays the Imnaha National Forest Reserve, divided into 36 sections. Each section is labeled with its number and the acreage it contains. The reserve is situated in a mountainous region, with the Snake River flowing through it. The town of Imnaha is located to the west of the reserve, and Pine is to the east. The map also shows various creeks, including the Snake River, and the surrounding landscape. A grid of coordinates is overlaid on the map, and a scale bar is provided at the bottom.
